

IMAST Transition and Indiana Standards: Goals and Accommodations

New Indiana Academic Standards

- How will this affect Indiana IEP?
- Will this affect the selection of accommodations?
- Does this change the way annual goals are written?
- What standards should be used for nonacademic goals such as behavior?

Indiana IEP

- The new Indiana Standards and Core Content Connectors will be available in Indiana IEP to start the new school year
- Common Core, old Indiana Standards, and ISTAR will only be available for progress monitoring
- Functional Achievement will be updated

Accommodations

- Currently in Indiana IEP Testing Accommodations are chosen as the Case Conference Committee discusses state assessment options.
- Any changes or additional accommodations will be available as soon as possible.
- Classroom accommodations may still be recorded in the Provisions section of Indiana IEP.

Annual Goals are attainable and realistic

Our Obligation to Meet our Student's Unique Needs Remains!

Good Goals depend on Accurate Present Levels of Performance

Standards-based Goals

- Indiana IEP requires at least one standard selected for each goal.
- The standards selected may include both grade level standards and standards at the students instructional level.
- Functional Achievement Standards will stay!
- New Core Content Connectors will be added!
